

HARDING SEES OREGON PIONEER SCENES ENACTED

Sirring Events of Last Century
Portrayed in Manner That Impresses Executive and Wife Greedy

INDIVIDUALS COUNT

Government May Provide Opportunity, but Worth While Things
Are Duties of Men,
Says President

New York, July 3.—President and Mrs. Harding saw reproduced here today the scenes of Oregon's pioneer days and traveled the old Oregon Trail. Here were reenacted for the chief executive of the nation and his wife the stirring events of the early days of the last century.

It was an unusual day for Mr. and Mrs. Harding. They will have no other days like it on their trip to the West, and when they observed a parting farewell from the old Oregon platform of their train late in the day the curtain went down on a scene which perhaps will never be reproduced.

The President and Mrs. Harding found thousands awaiting them when their train came to a standstill at 3 o'clock this morning beside the grounds where the celebration was held. Horsemen wearing the cavalry uniforms of the Civil war days escorted their train into the valley and cowboys and cowgirls rode daintily up to the train to extend the greetings of the Oregon pioneers.

Individualism Conquers West.

Luncheon was a basket dinner served by the women of the surrounding country in a big tent. Chicken, strawberries, cakes and roast beef were among the food.

The President then went to the reviewing stand to deliver his address in which he paid tribute to the spirit and the achievements of the pioneers.

"In this task of self-reliant citizenship, there came the rugged, militant, wholesome west," he declared. "Greater things were wrought, larger accomplishments were recorded, greater victory was won in this wholesome, inspiring individualism than will ever attend paternalism or government domination of the west, which are the natural inheritance of the builders who may better serve themselves."

"Government may well provide opportunity but the worthwhile accomplishments are the privileges and duties of men."

LEAGUE TO PROBE SAAR HAPPENINGS

Discusses Greek Loan to Aid Refugees; Tribute to United States

(By The Associated Press.)
Geneva, July 3.—The council of the League of Nations today decided to undertake, during the course of the present session, an investigation into the recent happenings and general situation in the Saar valley. A resolution to this effect was adopted unanimously, both France and Great Britain concurring.

The question of a Greek loan for the relief of a million refugees as suggested by Secretary of State Hughes was discussed this morning by a sub-committee of the council of the League of Nations.

Tribute to United States.

This meeting brought together all the agencies endeavoring to find a solution of the Greek problems. Dr. Nansen, head of the league's relief organization, in presenting his report, said:

"I desire to pay tribute not only to the Greek government, but in behalf of the Greek government and the other members of the league, to the United States for sympathy manifested through American relief organizations, which during the last nine months shouldered, practically unaided, the enormous burden of feeding upwards of 800,000 thousand refugees."

ENIGHT SUSPENDS TWO DETECTIVE SERGEANTS

New York, July 3.—Police Commissioner Enright late today suspended, pending a further investigation, Detective Sergeants William Morrison and David Lambert, who admitted on the stand at General Session Judge Clegg's inquiry into charges of bootlegging and graft in the police department, that they had given false testimony.

The two detectives told conflicting stories about a liquor seizure, their last story being that they did not see the liquor, found in a garage, because they were informed it was contraband by Inspectors Thor and O'Brien and Captain O'Connor.

FRANCIS HENRY CABLE.
(By The Associated Press.)
Paris, July 3.—President Millerand of France sent a French flag to the French nation yesterday.

40 Immigrant Couples Wed on Entering U. S.

New York, July 3.—From ships that lie off Ellis Island, through the immigration station red tape, came today 40 strains from abroad, on their way to 40 homes and they became as 40 with the city clerk reading from the prayer book.

Shortly after the clerk had opened the office, the first of the couples newly arrived in the "promised land" came timidly. He was a Scotch lad, who, a honey moon. Came after these two Irish couples, English couples, Italian couples, Greek, Dutch, Swedish and German.

The first of the immigrants through the station continues, and tomorrow the city clerk hopes to establish a new record, when the couples from the Slavic countries are passed. "I like to marry these folks," said the clerk. "They mean it."

2-YEAR-OLD BABY BURNED IN PRE-FOURTH ACCIDENT

New York, July 3.—The death of a two-year-old boy and the injury of a rescuer were pre-Fourth of July casualties, reported tonight while police made every effort to enforce a city ordinance forbidding the sale and use of fireworks within the city limits.

Charles Carty saw older playmates shooting off fireworks. He got a box of matches and started experimenting. His clothes caught fire and Albert Jellison tried to beat out the flames. The boy died, while Jellison was severely burned.

SMITH WILL TRY FOR NOMINATION

Democratic Leader, Mack, Says
Governor Will Seek to Be Nominated for Presidency

New York, July 3.—Norman E. Mack, of Buffalo, Democratic national committeeman, announced tonight after a conference with Governor Alfred E. Smith, that the governor would enter the next Democratic national convention as a contender for the nomination for president.

He said he believed the Democratic national platform would carry a plank calling for modification and liberalizing the Volstead act. "I think it will be to the advantage of the Democrats to incorporate such a pledge," he said.

Dry South Will Stick.

Mr. Mack added: "All of the powerful eastern seaboard states want the Volstead law modified. The greatest opposition to modification comes from the western states, which are normally Republican. The great industrial states like New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Illinois and Ohio and even Wisconsin and Maryland are swinging around to the idea that the present national prohibition law is too drastic."

"The southern Democratic dry states will go Democratic even if the party pledges for a more liberal alcoholic content."

SYDNEY MINERS STRIKE IN SYMPATHY WITH STEEL MEN

Sydney, N. S., July 4.—Eight thousand coal miners of Cape Breton had quit their pits at midnight tonight in sympathy with the strike of the Sydney steel workers and to force federal troops to withdraw from the strike zone. Union officials declared the strike was 100 per cent.

The 250 soldiers from Halifax, stationed at the Sydney steel works since Sunday, were re-enforced today by 350 more from London, Ont.

The total population dependent on the coal and steel industry and directly affected by the combined strikes is approximately 100,000. The British warship Wistaria arrived today from St. John's. The miners were apprehensive that the sailors would be used to pump the mines as was done in the English collieries during the great coal strike of 1920.

STORY OF GERMAN ATTEMPT- TO WRECK LEVIATHAN DENIED

New York, July 3.—The story of a German attempt to disable the Leviathan, that the Vaterland, on February 4, 1917, when America was approaching war with Germany, was declared untrue by F. H. Gibbs, of Gibbs Brothers, who reconditioned the giant liner.

The damage was found to have been the result of a bulging in docking the Vaterland on her last trip to this country under the German flag in 1914. This left her with several broken turbine blades and other damaged parts. Efforts of German engineers to repair the damage made matters worse, he asserted. When the broken parts were discovered, he said, credence was given to the story that the Germans had attempted to cripple the ship three months before she was seized by the American government.

Frankfort, Ky., July 3.—Equipment to the value of $25,000 is to be purchased by the Illinois Central railroad through the Bank of North America and Trust company of Philadelphia, according to an equipment list filed here today with the secretary of state.

The delegates, members of the International Association of Clothing Designers, will debate the question for four days. One of the designers present said there would be no startling changes.

CHALLENGER FIT

Eye and Judgment of Distance Appear Better Than Ever in His Ring Fighting; Tips
Scales at 178

(By The Associated Press.)
Shelby, Mont., July 3.—Shelby tonight was anxiously awaiting the great pugilistic event which tomorrow will focus the eyes of the entire sport world on this little Montana town.

Assured of the title bout between Champion Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons after one of the most hectic and despairing financial battles ever waged by community proud citizens in the history of pugilism, the residents of this city of shacks, tents and concession stands, fight officials and trainers were drawing to a close the elaborate preparations which have been proceeding busily for the past three weeks.

Challenger Appears Fit.

Only a few details remained to be completed tonight. Apparently the least disturbed of any man in Shelby, Tom Gibbons, the St. Paul contender, romped with his three children in his little cottage, went for a short walk over the nearby hills in the afternoon and saw cowpunchers and rough riders perform at a rodeo.

The challenger will tip the scales at 175 pounds when he enters the ring tomorrow. Eddie Kane, his manager, said tonight. His eye and judgment of distance, on the face of his showing in his recent sparring matches, will be better than they ever have been before in his ring career.

The going will send contender and champion on their way at 3 o'clock, mountain time.

No Extra Weight on Dempsey.

(By The Associated Press.)
Great Falls, Mont., July 3.—Jack Dempsey rolled into bed at his training camp early tonight for his last sleep before he crawls into the ring to defend his world's heavyweight championship against Tommy Gibbons. Dempsey declared that he expected Gibbons to prove to be one of the toughest opponents he has ever met.

Dempsey was evidently enjoying a feeling of relief as a result of the bargain made by Kearns to gamble at the gate for the final $100,000 due Dempsey.

Dempsey looks to be everything that his manager, Jack Kearns, has declared of him, perfectly trained and ready for Gibbons. The champion is tanned to a deep brown as a result of long exposure to the sun, his face and body aglow with health and he does not appear to have an extra pound of weight on his trim frame.

One of the five said the man had come to him as a salesman with apparently unassailable references, and, beginning in a small way to take out gems to sell on commis-

FIREWORKS CAUSE DISASTROUS FIRE

Business Section of Town Wiped Out; Help Called From Several Vermont Cities

Hardwick, Vt., July 3.—The citizens of this little town, tonight were planning the rebuilding of Hardwick's business section which was wiped out by fire early today with a loss of $150,000.

The Fourth of July will be celebrated as planned by the town fire department which has prepared for a tag day, a baseball game and a play—the proceeds to be used to purchase a new fire truck.

Apparatus Inadequate.

The volunteer fire department apparatus proved inadequate when the fire broke out. Help was immediately sought from Harro, Morrisville, Montpelier and St. Johnsbury. Soon after the arrival of this apparatus a dozen streams of water were pouring on the flames and by 2 o'clock the fire was under control.

The town tonight was fast recovering from the results of the conflagration. Electric power was shut off for a time today and most plants were closed.

The fire started from an explosion of fireworks in a small store directly underneath the barber shop of A. J. Flory. The flames, when discovered shortly before midnight were beyond control, and were soon sweeping through the business blocks, all but one of which were of wooden construction.

NO SOLUTION IN FRENCH REPLY

Indemnities Problem Still Unsolved; No Answer Expected at This Time

(By The Associated Press.)
London, July 3.—France's reply to the British memorandum on reparations was presented to Foreign Secretary Marquis Curzon late this afternoon but it offers no solution of the indemnities problem.

The French ambassador in a talk with Lord Curzon set forth France's views on various phases of the Ruhr question but failed to define in specific terms his country's exact position on some of the points of the recent questionnaire.

There was undisguised disappointment in British official circles that neither of the allies showed a disposition to recede on their previously expressed demands. Talk of a rupture is dismissed, however. The whole reparations problem will be discussed at tomorrow's cabinet meeting in the light of today's conference.

N. Y. C. NOT TO INTERFERE IN TROLLEY STRIKE

Policies of D. & H. Railroad Interests in Schenectady to Be Left Unhindered, Says
President Smith

FEW PASSENGERS

Citizens Shun Cars Despite Fact
That Service Is Completely Restored; Strike Breakers Departing

Schenectady, July 3.—Officials of the New York Central railroad will not interfere with the policies of the Delaware & Hudson railroad's interest in the conduct of the railway strike in this city, according to a letter from A. H. Smith, president of the New York Central and directors of the Schenectady Railway company, made public by the chamber of commerce here tonight.

Control of the Schenectady Railway company passed from the New York Central to the Delaware & Hudson interests with the election of Harry B. Weatherwax as president of the Schenectady Railway company this year, the letter indicated.

A letter to the same effect was received from W. K. Vanderbilt, director of both the New York Central and the Schenectady Railway company.

Will Appeal to Directors.

The chamber of commerce recently appealed to Mr. Smith and Mr. Vanderbilt to use their influence in bringing about settlement of the strike after the directors had testified at a state industrial commission hearing in New York city that the strike should be settled and that the striking carmen should be given a hearing. Mr. Weatherwax, testimony indicated, had refused to deal with the strikers through their union organization.

Directors of the Schenectady Railway company in New York city soon are to be visited in person by a joint committee representing authorities and the chamber of commerce of this city in an effort to bring about a settlement of the street car strike here, which tomorrow enters upon its eighth week.

Railway officials announced today that the public there appeared no change in the situation, with the chief delays occurring in only a few cities.

ONLY ONE "BABY FARM"

INMATE NOW UNCLAIMED

Schenectady, July 12.—Parents of 10 of the 16 babies, all that remained of the 19 which arrived here Saturday night in charge of Mrs. Anna Stewers, of Brooklyn, who planned on starting a "baby farm" near here, had responded tonight to telegrams asking them to call at the county almshouse in this city, where five of the toddlers in this city belong by birth or adoption to Mrs. Anna Stewers, and word has been received from parents of 10 that they are coming within the next 24 hours to take their children back to New York city and the vicinity whence the strange assortment came. The one unclaimed is Mary Catarano, five months old. One baby died in the hospital and parents have already taken away two others.

DRYS PROFIT BY CIVILLIER BILL

Bryan Says Wet Throw Off Mask
and Hints Opposing Forces
Will Concentrate

Richmond, Ind., July 3.—Breaking his silence on the action of Governor Smith and the New York assembly in removing the New York state prohibition enforcement code, William J. Bryan declared last night that the wet forces have thrown off the mask and are for unbridled and open lawlessness without restraint of any sort.

Mr. Bryan said he believed the ultimate effect of this last repudiation of the law will be to the advantage of the dry cause.

"The wets have abandoned their hypocritical assertions that they are not against reasonable prohibition," he said. "They make no further pretense in New York of limiting the sale of intoxicants to light wines and beer."

"They stand for the unlimited traffic in liquors without any legal limitations whatever."

The legion has recognized the fact and our common action as in the days of the past for the defense of right in the world cannot fail to continue to work for the highest welfare of our two countries."

USES MATCH TO FIND OUT IF FIREWORKS WERE GOOD

Essex, Mass., July 3.—A boy entered the grocery store of Henry C. Vandenberg here today. There was a counter of fireworks close to the door.

"Are they any good?" asked the boy as he reached a match to a firecracker on the pile.

Before the grocer could answer there came an explosion that shattered windows and blew down. Fifteen dollars' worth of fireworks were destroyed. The boy escaped.

MOST MEMORABLE OF DAYS

The one day of all in the year which from a standpoint of national history is most memorable is that which all over the United States was for the one hundred forty-seventh time ushered in this morning with the discharge of fireworks and ringing of bells and firing of cannons and the flying to the breeze of the flag of our country. There are other holidays which have their personal, historic and religious significance; but among them all—and there are no less than 31 days which are acknowledged in the country as holidays—there is none which from the standpoint of sheer patriotism stands for so much or is destined as a holiday so long to endure.

It is to be noted, in the beginning, that it is for celebration of the great-est of American events—the nation's birthday. It is the anniversary of a date toward which the entire history of our people, struggling in a trackless wilderness toward a light more perfect, and for a freedom of thought, speech and act of which at first they had but vaguely dreamed, moved forward inevitably. It is a date from which we reckon, taking heed of the time when the country, shaking off the shackles of a nation overseas, proclaimed its independence. It is the day on which there was approved and sent abroad a document, terse in expression, remarkable in literary quality, clear in thought, patriotic in sentiment and withal filled with the highest sentiments of truth, justice and piety. Forward or backward, however we look, it is the point of vantage.

That all men are created free and equal, that they are endowed with life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness as inalienable rights, that governments derive their proper powers from the consent of the governed—these are the fundamental facts whereon is based the whole of the declaration. Moreover, they are the facts which have influenced the conduct of the nation in consideration of every important issue. It was the spirit of the declaration which in the end was instrumental in the abolition of slavery, of one time legal in every section of the union, though in 1861 confined to the south. It was this same spirit which in 1863 led to the Emancipation Proclamation.

With Spain, it had its influence also when the United States was called upon to participate in the World War. It was the sentiment of the declaration which eventually made every country of North and South America practically free, it was this same sentiment which has worked for better things in the conduct of social, civic and industrial and community life. Along all these and other lines, including that of religious liberty, the principles of the declaration have wrought.

It is no wonder then that the Fourth of July is universally observed. It may not in other nations be borne directly in mind, but practically all of them have some day of declaration of independence, and the sentiments of all the declarations hark back inevitably to our own. Years have passed since the old "ell of independence hall in Philadelphia rang out its message of freedom for the country and eventually for the world; the bell itself is broken, it sounds a note of dissonance, but as a symbol of national accomplishment it remains a thing wherewith in days of trial to stir the heart and waken the conscience of the world. So, too, the declaration, the adoption of which is the vital thing it heralded, abides with us each recurring Fourth of July, and is read in city and village and smallest of communities, setting forth anew as at first it did long ago in Philadelphia, the enduring sentiments embodied in perhaps the most memorable of man-made documents.

THE GUIDE POST—BY HENRY VANDYKE

HERESY TRIALS

Football and ignorance questionings follow, knowing that they grade after—11 Tim. 222.

I have heavy trials.
 Most of them originate in envy, malice and uncharitableness.
 Some of them begot new heresies.
 None of them lead any new strength to the truth or give any new impulse to the practice of religion.
 So far as I know, there is no trial for heresy recorded in the New Testament.
 But there were trials for dishonesty and un-Christian conduct and bad behavior.
 These are the real heresies.
 With the apostles differed in their opinions and in the ways of stating them.
 St. Paul might have called a heretic a man who was not a Christian.
 But he never did—because they were his friends and fellow Christians.

CONCERNING OTSEGO COUNTY

State College of Agriculture Published
 Increasing Booklet on Agricultural Resources.

One of several circulars lately issued by the State College of Agriculture at Ithaca is entitled: "Otsego County, an Account of its Agriculture and its Farm Bureau." It was written by Floyd S. Barlow, who from its organization to a recent date was manager of the farm bureau, and is perhaps more thoroughly conversant than any other single individual with the history of the movement for agricultural betterment in the county. Otsego, the foremost of the booklet states, was the twenty-first county in the state to organize a farm bureau and the second to organize a home bureau. For five years the county held the lead in total farm bureau membership in the state, and for three years in home bureau membership. Under the direction of a strong executive committee and with efficient county agents, it has been one of the foremost farm and home bureau counties in the state. Not only has the bureau helped to awaken the county to new ideas and new appreciation of its own resources, but it has to a considerable extent influenced through its leadership the ideas and programs of many other counties of New York. In short, Otsego has made big strides toward the ideal of being "the best county in the state."

The text of the volume has accompanied it two maps, one of them showing its relative position in the state and the other indicating the location of all the improved highways in the county. There are also two illustrations, one showing a typical country community within its boundaries and the other representing a poultry culling demonstration.

In connection with the population of the county it is stated that in 1920, which was 46,300, all but 2,329 were American-born, an unusual number even in a section originally peopled by large part by those of colonial stock. The topography of the county consists of broad ridges and long wide valleys. As a matter of interest it may be noted that the elevation of the city of Oneonta above sea level is 1,073 feet. Otsego lake, 1,194 feet. There are in the county 4,779 farms, with an area of 130.3 acres, of which 8,557 are above the average in size. In percentage of improved land the county ranks eighth in the state, and the average farm value is $7,620.

Milk production, the leading farm enterprise of the county, brings in a large part of the farm income of the county. In 1920 there were 75,351 cows in the county and over 25 millions of gallons of milk was produced.

No one breed of cattle appears to be paramount in the county. Though there are many Holsteins among the herds devoted solely to milk production, there are also many herds of Jersey and Guernseys, and they rank among the best in the country. Each of these breeds has an active association, as also have the sheep breeders and poultrymen—Otsego being the seventh county in rank in the state in egg production—the beekeepers and several others.

Much of the book is given to the work of the Farm and Home Bureau and unquestionably their work alone with that of the Junior projects, has done much to keep Otsego in the proud position which it now holds.

No brief summary can give a clear idea of the booklet, by the publication of which the county is signally honored, but copies of it can be had by merely dropping a line to the State College of Agriculture at Ithaca.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS' DEPARTMENT

Groups, Divided According to Age, to Begin Summer Program.

The membership of the Boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. has been divided into two groups according to age, the younger boys in class B, and older ones in class A, which has been subdivided into three groups, because of the large number of members. The program which has been arranged will include baseball, fishing, overnight trips, swimming, radio and its workings, and hikes for the study of birds, flowers, and stars. From time to time meetings will be held which members of all the groups will attend.

A meeting of group A2 was held Tuesday evening at 7 p. m. of A2 at 7:30 p. m., at the building to elect officers, and organization meetings of group B at 7 p. m. and group A1 at 7:30 p. m. on Thursday evening.

PROJECT WORKERS RETURN

Eight Otsego Boys and Girls at Cornell Field Days.

Eight tired but happy project workers returned to Otsego county from the Cornell Field days last Friday evening and all pronounced the trip one they would not have missed for anything. From the big welter roost on the evening of the first day when everyone at the field days ate more than ever before to the pig judging demonstration on the morning of the last day the program was interesting and instructive. Demonstrations in agricultural practices were given in gardening, rope splicing, potato culture, poultry raising and pig, sheep and dairy cattle judging. Talks were given by President Livingston Farrand of Cornell university, Dean A. R. Mann of the State College of Agriculture, and former Dean H. Bailey. The boys and girls heard a concert on the chimes in the library tower.

CATTLE EXPERT IN OTSEGO

Professor Crandall to Assist in Junior Cattle Judging Demonstrations.

Professor Crandall of the State College of Agriculture will be in Otsego county July 8th to 10th to assist the county club agent in agricultural projects in carrying on instruction in cattle judging for calf club members. Meetings are now being held throughout the county where demonstrations will be given and then the boys and girls will be given practice in judging. The aim of these meetings is to give Otsego county future cattle breeders who will have the correct type in mind at all times and will aim at the cow which will produce most economically.

ONONDAGA MAKE LONG TRIP

Arrive in Onondaga, Canada, After Touring 1,500 Miles in Touring Car.

A report from Biggar, Saskatchewan, Canada, tells of the arrival there in June of three residents of this city, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Haskins and daughter, who had reached Biggar after a 1,500 mile journey from here.

In reaching Biggar, which is about 150 miles north of the border between Montana and Canada, Mr. Haskins had made an unusually long trip and one well off the beaten path customarily followed by western tourists.

The journey was made in a Durant 1915 model touring car, and no serious mishaps delayed the party. They found good roads as far as Winnipeg, but from there on travel was not as smooth.

The ultimate destination of Mr. Haskins' trip is unknown.

Mr. Haskins, who lives at 15 West avenue, was employed last year on the Union and Delaware as a machinist.

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR

Rev. A. R. Skinner of Saskatoon, Canada, Called to Local Pulpit—Will Commence Duties in September.

Rev. A. R. Skinner, now pastor of a Presbyterian church at Saskatoon, Province of Saskatchewan, Canada, has been invited by the congregation of the United Presbyterian church in this city to become its pastor and in all probability will accept the call and begin his duties here in September.

Mr. Skinner has been supplying at the church for the past two Sundays. He will preach again on Sunday next and will then leave for Canada to make arrangements for coming here in September. The United Presbyterian pulpit has been vacant since Rev. Frank Caughey left just a year ago.

Mr. Skinner secured his classical education at the University of Manitoba, from which institution he was graduated with the degree of B. A. His theological training was secured at the Knox college at Toronto and at the Manitoba Theological seminary. He is married and has three children. His wife is also a graduate of the University of Manitoba. Mr. Skinner was born in Scotland and spent the first 20 years of his life there. He is at present pastor of a large church at Saskatoon, a city of 20,000 inhabitants, and letters from citizens there speak very highly of his personality and qualifications.

Mr. Skinner is a man of pleasing appearance and engaging personality, and has made a very favorable impression upon the members of the congregation, as well as upon others. Last evening he liked the city and its surroundings and the people whom he had met and was looking forward to making Onondaga his home. The parsonage, now under construction on the lot on Dietz street next to the church, will undoubtedly be ready for Mr. Skinner's occupancy in September.

IN CHILDREN'S COURT

Four Cases Come Before Judge U. G. Welch at Session Here Yesterday.

Four cases came before County Judge U. G. Welch in children's court held at the Municipal building in this city yesterday. A twelve year old boy residing about two miles out of the city who had been in court previously for attempting to break into a house came before the court with his mother. He was paroled for one year in the custody of his parents and under probation to Miss Beale Trout, county agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

The fourteen year lad who broke into the Huesgen grocery store on East street Saturday night and stole $50 in cash and a carton of cigarettes, appeared in court with his mother. He was placed on probation in the custody of Miss Dorothy Blake, city parole officer, and was ordered to remain at home until September 4. He will come before the court again on that date.

A woman living about eight miles from the city came before the court with her three children, aged five, seven and nine years, and stated that her husband has deserted her and left her and the children in a destitute condition. The state roopers were directed to investigate the case and report to Judge Welch.

A girl who had been in court previously as a juvenile delinquent appeared again charged with breaking her parole. Upon her promise to do better in the future, Judge Welch decided to give her one more chance.

ACKNOWLEDGE MATRICE FUND

Captain (The Friends of State Troopers) and Mrs. Mattice to Contributors to Fund.

The Star has received the following letter from Captain D. E. Fox of Troop C, of the New York State Troopers, relative to the fund secured for the widow of the late Trooper Mattice, which will interest all contributors:

Editor, Star:

I wish to take this opportunity to extend to the Onondaga Daily Star, and the people of Onondaga and vicinity, who so graciously responded to the call for aid, for the widow of Corporal Mattice of Troop "C," who was fatally shot while attempting to apprehend a criminal at Morris, N. Y., April 28th, 1923, my sincere thanks on behalf of Mrs. Mattice, the widow.

It is indeed very gratifying to know that we are living in a community of people, who not only appreciate sorrow for those who lose their loved ones, but for adherence to duty, as in this particular case, and for this Mrs. Mattice is very thankful, and also very proud of the fact that her husband met the end so heroically.

The ready response to meet the condition, in which the loved ones were left, on the part of the Onondaga Daily Star, was certainly very worthy of recognition, and very much appreciated, not only by Mrs. Mattice, but Troop "C," and for this our thanks are 1,000 fold.

Assuring you of our cooperation and services at all times, I wish to remain,

Very truly yours,
DANIEL E. FOX,
Captain Troop "C."

A Buick Closed Car

Built for Summer Driving

The Buick Six Cylinder Touring Sedan is particularly popular because it combines perfectly the many advantages of the open touring model with the luxury and convenience of a fine closed car.

The wide windows provide touring car airiness; yet in case of a summer shower or dust storm, a turn of the hand instantly protects the occupants without obstructing their vision.

Buick traditional performance, power, dependability and riding comfort are worthily typified in this Touring Sedan.

A Lovable Story of the DOW

After Solange by Which Painter Shuts Out Unpleasant Visitor From His Studio.

A lovable story is ascribed to the artist and his wife, Mr. Oliver Herford, by his associate, Mr. Edward Simmons, the painter. Mr. Simmons says that one day while he was enjoying a very agreeable call at Mr. Herford's studio their conversation was interrupted by a peculiar knocking at the door—three lead peremptory knocks at intervals of a second or two and then two more in quick succession.

Mr. Herford at once put his finger on his lip and motioned to his caller to be perfectly quiet. Neither man spoke or stirred while the curious knock was twice repeated. Then they heard the retreating footsteps of the knocker passing down the hall.

Then Mr. Herford relaxed his attitude of silent tension and smiled. "That was Blank," he said. "A thoroughly good and well-meaning fellow, but a most frightful bore. I've stood all the calls I can from him. So I told him that I had given special knocks to all my most intimate friends in order that I might know when they called and let them in at times when I should be unwilling to be disturbed by less congenial callers. Blank was saying only the other night that I must have been out a good deal lately. He hasn't got in to see me since I assigned him his knock!"—Youth's Companion.

HERE'S A REAL BULL STORY

California Auto Forced to Do Battle With Raging Animal.

Albert Waltempiel, clerk in the Southern Pacific roadhouse at Sacramento, Cal., has learned something about bulls.

Waltempiel recently cranked up his automobile, made not mentioned, and set out for Jackson. On the way up to the mountain town he caught a bull busy throwing dust over his back and imitating a Nubian lion in tone of voice. By careful manipulation of the machine Waltempiel was able to escape.

Not so on his return trip. The bull held full possession of the road, and snorted his defiance as Waltempiel approached in his car. Undecided, he halted his steed and waited for developments, which were soon forthcoming. With lowered head the bull charged the auto and rammed a long horn deep in the radiator. A flood of hot water spouted out, and with surprise in his voice the bull turned and fled for a cooler climate.

The automobile is now in the repair shop and Waltempiel jumps every time he hears a bellow.

ADVERTISES FOR BURGLAR

One So Expert Responds That He Gets Regular Job.

"I want a reliable burglar who happens to be out of jail," read a recent application to the Berlin police from a jeweler, proprietor of a big new establishment on Potsdamer Platz.

Inquiry showed that the dealer wanted an expert crackman to test the safety appliances and locks of his new establishment. The detective was asked to supply a man who within one hour displaced one of the iron bars which safemakers had guaranteed to be theftproof, and in a short time made his way into the shop.

He offered so many suggestions about safety devices and alarms that the jeweler has employed him regularly to inspect the construction work—under the supervision of the proprietor.

New Variety of Sugar Cane

The variety of sugar cane known as E. C. 124, produced by the federal agricultural experiment station in the Virgin Islands, is considered very promising. Recent reports to the United States Department of Agriculture from a plantation in Porto Rico to which cuttings were sent for testing say that the original two and one-half acres planted to this variety have been extended to 200 for the present year.

Several of the fields are estimated to yield 60 tons of cane an acre, which, with the average sucrose and purity of the juice, should give nearly 11 tons of 98 degree sugar an acre. The original field is now giving a fourth ratoon crop that averages 30 tons of cane an acre. A profitable fourth ratoon crop has never before been produced on this plantation with any other variety.

'MISSING LINK' KEPT IN VAULT

Scientist Asks That Remains Be Shown to Experts.

KNOWN AS THE JAVA APE-MAN

Five hundred thousand years after its existence, the fossil of a Java ape-man, commonly called a "missing link," bridging the gap between ape and man, may soon be exhibited to the gaze of the world's scientists.

Dr. Henry Fairfield Osborn, president of the American Museum of Natural History, New York, is heading a movement to have Dr. Eugene Dubois, Dutch scientist, unlock his safe vaults containing the remains of the animal which at the end of the Pleistocene era walked upright and had a brain similar to that of modern man.

For some reason, Doctor Dubois, the discoverer, has refused to exhibit the bones he found in 1893 near Tupil, in Java. A thighbone, the top of a skull, and two grinding teeth were all that 5,000 centuries had left of what Doctor Dubois described as the ape-man.

Scientists arrived.

Scientists of two continents were stirred when the fossils were shown by Doctor Dubois at the British Association for the Advancement of Science. But there was universal surprise when Doctor Dubois, after his lecture, wrapped up the bones of the creature that roamed the earth long before the first glaciers swept prehistoric Europe, and carried them off to his Haarlem safe.

Plaster casts of the skull top and teeth and photographs of the thighbone were taken.

These were put at the disposal of scientists, and in New York Dr. J. H. McGregor of Columbia university, expert restorer of fossils, using the top of the skull as a base, reconstructed the skull and then built the head of the ape-man.

This, after exact measurements of the brain cavity, resulted in the discovery that the brain of this prehistoric creature was one not heretofore known. It was smaller than that of a man, yet larger than that of any known ape. It had measured about 650 cubic centimeters, while that of a man averages between 1,500 and 1,800. The ape's is never larger than 600.

Ape-Man Walked Erect

From the photograph of the thighbone, Doctor McGregor made a cast, and from this deduced, after careful examination, that the man-like walked erect and was about five feet six inches tall, but that while already remote from the ape, was not yet a man.

Another scientist, Dr. William K. Gregory, curator of the department of comparative anatomy at the American Museum of Natural History, studied the teeth carefully. He verdict was that they "single and canine, in a remarkable way, human and ape characteristics."

There has all along been some controversy why Doctor Dubois should keep so valuable a scientific relic from the world. In the meantime, the ape-man holds undisputed place as probably the link connecting the Pithecanthropus living before the first glacial period and the Heidelberg man of that period, say 200,000 years ago.

Kept Worshippers Awake

To the chiding men in New England felt the task of keeping worshippers awake during church services. He had a long staff with a knob on one end to tap the sleeping man, while on the other end was a flat ball to dangle in the face of sleeping women.

One Allen Briggs is spoken of in one of the early journals. He was very proud of having been appointed to wake the sleepers, and was determined to show his authority. He fastened a thumb to one end of his waking weapon.

"On ye last Lord's Day he did say Mr. Tumbleton sleeping," the journal reads. "He gave him a grievous prick in the head. Whereupon Mr. Tumbleton did spring up much above ye floor and with terrific force strove his head against ye wall."

"And to ye great wonder of all, prophetic utterance 'Come ye wood-chuck,' he dreamed it was a wood-chuck had entered and hit his head."

BURNING STATION AT NEW YORK

Building Dept. of Buildings has been notified that the station at New York City is in danger of being burned.

Station South of Madison, N.Y., a station on the Massachusetts Central, made a raid on St. John, N.Y., in August, 1935. He burned the station and destroyed the fuel, which was contained by only four men, and captured a lot of 100 tons of fuel, which was contained by the station at St. John. This station said it had the effect of burning the station at St. John, and the result of war was sent to crisis in the Bay of Fundy to protect the station along its shore.

The people of Madison, emboldened by the success which attended their first raid, attempted to make and hold the first of St. John, but were driven away by a force sent from Halifax. In consequence of this second raid on St. John, a black house and station were erected on a hill overlooking the harbor, and dignified by the name of Fort Howe. Two years after this event about 600 Indians assembled at the mouth of the Kennebec for the purpose of destroying the settlement of Margerville, but the people escaped across the river to Orono, where a fort had been erected. This was the last threat of Indian war, and in the following year, 1799, numbers of Indians assembled at Fort Howe and swore allegiance to King George.

British Engineers Busy.

Contracts for engines and railroad stocks for foreign and Colonial customers have been booked by British firms in such volume as to keep their engineers and laborers hard at work for months to come. Boardman and Company of Glasgow have obtained an order for the reconstruction of railway workshops of Portuguese railways and are making 27 locomotives and 3,200 pairs of wheels for Indian railways. Boyer, Fawcett and Company, Ltd., of Gorton, Manchester, have booked an order for 30 locomotives from the East Indian Railway company. Boardman and Company also will make three engines for East Borneo, and the Vulcan company of Manchester is manufacturing 35 locomotives for India. Altogether British engineering firms have recently booked orders from abroad for close upon $10,000,000.

Wages Demand for Cotton Cloth.

The cotton cloth used in the manufacture of bags for the cement trade last year would make a strip thirty inches wide and 17,500 miles long, or one that would reach two-thirds around the earth at the equator. In order to maintain the necessary stock of 200,000,000 yards, the cement industry yearly orders approximately 20,000,000 new yards, consuming 20,000 bales, or 15,000,000 pounds of cotton.

Lost in the Woods

Experienced woodsmen say that when a man gets lost in the forest he usually travels around and around in a circle.

That's just the way some folks shop. They hit the buying trail, stray from it a bit, and before they are aware of the fact, they are lost—wandering in a maze of counters—gradually growing wearier and wearier—and finally get back home mentally and physically, tucked out without having accomplished much.

Up-to-date shoppers make up their minds what they are going to buy before they leave the house. They know exactly what they want, how much they want to pay, and just where they will find the right goods at the right prices. To them shopping is a pleasure.

These modern shoppers read the advertisements carefully and regularly. They find that the advertisements save them steps, bother, trouble and time.
